

Karie

Karie is an automatic medication dispenser that organizes, schedules and delivers medication with the touch of a button.

Karie uses common easy-to-open pouches, which are pre-organized by a pharmacist. At the scheduled dose time, Karie will alert the user by lighting up and chiming. If a dose of medication is missed, Karie can send a notification to a friend, family member or caregiver to ensure users get the assistance they need.

It is ideal for nurses and personal support workers as predetermined medication schedules will free up a portion of their busy day so they can focus even more on what's important - the comfort and care of their patients.
